Issue description

4XX HTTP status codes indicate that the requested page or resource cannot be accessed. 4XX URLs provide a poor user experience for the site's visitors because they cannot access the page or file via the link they clicked on. Moreover, internal links to 4XX URLs drain your crawl budget. Pages of your website that changed their response code to 4XX will be removed from search engine indexes.

How to fix

Review the list of 4XX URLs and analyze every internal page that's linked to a 4XX URL. Remove such broken links or replace them with appropriate links to live and accessible pages. Moreover, you can set up 301 redirects when moving or deleting the site's pages to avoid having 4XX errors. The HTTP response code 429 (Too Many Requests) may indicate that the crawl rate specified under the crawl settings for your project is too high for the web server to handle. Decrease it via the settings (Limits and restrictions) and rescan the project.

Issue description

The noindex directive in the <head> section of the page's HTML code prevents search engines from displaying the page in the search results. If the page uses the noindex directive, search engines will not rank the page, even if other websites link out to it.

How to fix

Only use this directive on pages that you don't want to appear in the search results. Make sure these pages are not blocked by the robots.txt file. Otherwise, search engine bots will not be able to see the noindex directive, and if other websites link out to these pages, they can appear in the search results.

Issue description

The nofollow attribute in the <head> section of the page's HTML code prevents search engines from clicking on all links on this page.

How to fix

Use the nofollow attribute only if you do not want search engine bots to follow all the links on a specific web page. Make sure that pages that use the nofollow attribute are not blocked by the robots.txt file. Otherwise, search engine bots will not be able to see the nofollow attribute.

Redirects

1 39

Description

Misconfigured redirects can lead to incorrect locations. This can confuse users, ruin their experience, increase the number of HTTP requests to your website, and result in a traffic drop and crawling budget decline. The checks in this section help you maintain control over your redirects and pinpoint room for improvement related to them.

ISSUES	PAGES	NEW	FIXED
Redirect to 4xx or 5xx	1	0	0

https://ucu.ac.ug/academics//application.ucu.ac.ug

Issue description

Redirect landing pages return a 4XX or 5XX response code. These pages were either deleted or are inaccessible due to server problems. As a result, search engine robots are not able to crawl such pages, and visitors who see an error in the browser will most likely leave your site.

How to fix

Replace the target redirect page address with the relevant one if the page returns a 4XX response code. A 5XX response code indicates that there's a problem with the site's web server. The error may be temporary and mean that technical work was carried out on your server during the crawl. Check the web server error log, and if server problems occur regularly, identify the cause and fix it.

Issue description

The pages indicated in the report return a 3XX response code, meaning that a redirect is set up from such pages. The 3XX response code in itself is not a problem, but each redirect puts an additional load on the server, so it's better to remove unnecessary internal redirects.

How to fix

Make sure that the number of 3XX pages on your website does not exceed 5% of the total number of pages. If their number exceeds 10%, then you have a critical problem, and you should immediately remove some of the redirects.

Sitemap

Description

A sitemap is a file that contains a list of all the URLs on a website that crawlers should be aware of. It must be free of irrelevant or invalid URLs to prevent it from hurting your crawl budget. The checks in this section help ensure your sitemap remains in place and error-free.

⚠ 3XX redirects in XML sitemap	2	0	0
https://ucu.ac.ug/elementor-hf/mega-menu/
https://ucu.ac.ug/elementor-hf/footer/

Issue description

The XML sitemap contains URLs that redirect visitors from one page to another via 3XX redirects, which, in turn, can drain the crawl budget and lead to website indexing issues.

How to fix

Replace redirecting URLs in the XML sitemap with destination URLs. If a destination URL is already in the XML sitemap, you should delete URLs with 3XX redirects from the XML sitemap.

Issue description

Note that search engines cut off extensively long titles and allow them to be up to 600 pixels in length in the SERPs. For this reason, it's better to take this size into account when creating the title. Otherwise, people may see an incomplete title in the search results.

How to fix

The general recommendation is to keep the title between 20 and 65 characters, with each word separated by a space, and concisely describe what the page is about.

Issue description

Search engines can use the description meta tag to generate descriptions for snippets, but they may shorten it to a length they deem acceptable. For this reason, it's important that the page description is clear and concise, and defines the page's topic.

How to fix

The general recommendation is to keep your page description length up to 158 characters, although Google can sometimes display longer snippets.

Issue description

The <h1> tag is the top-level page heading, which is the most important <h> tag. People usually see the <h1> tag as the title of the text, and search engines use it to understand what the page is about. Keep in mind that from the SEO perspective, the <h1> tag is the second most important tag after the <title> tag.

How to fix

Make sure all of your web pages have a unique <h1> header tag. Depending on the website type and page structure, there may be more than one <h1> tag, but it is highly recommended to use only one <h1> tag per page. The key thing to keep in mind here is that your pages need to be logically structured.

Issue description

Technically, you can use multiple <h1> tags on a page, and Google will consider both tags. But if the structure of the page allows you to use a single <h1> tag, we strongly recommend you do so.

How to fix

If possible, use a single <h1> tag on a page. That way, the structure of the page will be clear to all search engines.

Issue description

Duplicate <h1> headings on different pages prevent search engines from understanding which site page is relevant to a particular search query. Pages with duplicate header tags are less likely to rank well, as they can confuse search engines about the page topic.

How to fix

Write a unique <h1> for each page on your site, adding a clear description of the content on the page.

Issue description

The <h1> tag is the top-level page heading, which is the most important <h> tag. People usually see the <h1> tag as the title of the text, and search engines use it to understand what the page is about. The <h1> tag briefly describes the content of the subsequent block, so it should be informative and concise.

How to fix

Make sure all of your web pages have a unique <h1> header tag that is filled with concise relevant text. The defined tag length can be changed under settings.

Issue description

Some pages on your website are not loading fast enough. As a result, this negatively impacts the page's behavioral signals: if a page is taking too long to load, people tend to leave the page and go to another website. Moreover, the loading speed of a web page is one of Google's ranking factors.

How to fix

Optimize the HTML code for the pages specified in the report. This is important because if the HTML code of the page isn't optimized, the page will take longer to load. Also, consider checking your web server, as it may be the root of the problem. If optimizing your code doesn't help, consider moving to a faster web server.

https://ucu.ac.ug/

Issue description

Speed Index measures how quickly content is visually displayed during page loading. This parameter compares your page speed index to that of real sites. It is measured in a lab environment based on data from the Lighthouse report.

How to fix

Increase your page loading speed. To do this, you can compress images on the page, optimize Javascript and CSS, and use page caching. Also, when loading web fonts, use the font that the user already has. As a result, the text will be visible with no delay.

⚠ Largest Contentful Paint (LCP) in a lab environment	1	0	0
https://ucu.ac.ug/

Issue description

LCP measures the loading speed of the largest visual elements on the page, namely images, text blocks, videos, etc. It is measured in a lab environment based on data from the Lighthouse report.

How to fix

Speed up server response time to make sure the largest image or text block is displayed in under 2.5 seconds. To speed things up, use preloading on static content pages and optimize the top-of-page code. Also, optimize font and image file sizes as well as eliminate render-blocking JavaScript and CSS.

ISSUES	PAGES	NEW	FIXED
Time to Interactive (TTI)	1	0	0

https://ucu.ac.ug/

Issue description

TTI measures the time from the moment the page starts loading until the moment a stable response to user actions is made. It is measured in a lab environment based on data from the Lighthouse report.

How to fix

Work on optimizing the JavaScript code: remove unused or unnecessary JavaScript libraries as well as split JavaScript into bundles and load only the portions necessary at the time.

JavaScript

Description

By using JavaScript, web developers can create dynamic and interactive websites. At the same time, JavaScript files are usually rather heavy and can significantly slow down your website if they are not optimized. Fix the errors listed in this section so that JavaScript files won't hinder your website's fast loading speed.

JavaScript too big	2	0	0

https://ucu.ac.ug/contact-us/

https://ucu.ac.ug/metform-form/new-form-1695290504/

Issue description

The total size of JavaScript files on some web pages exceeds 2 MB.
The page loading speed depends on the size of JavaScript files, and the "heavier" these files are, the longer it will take for the page to load.
In turn, the page loading speed directly impacts the user experience and, as a result, SERP rankings.

How to fix

Make sure that you're only using JavaScript files that are necessary for the correct operation of your web pages. Try reducing the file size.

Issue description

Minification is the process of removing unnecessary lines, white space, and comments from the source code.
Minifying JavaScript files makes their size smaller and, as a result, decreases the page load time, providing a better user experience and improving your search engine rankings.

How to fix

Minify your JavaScript files. If you use JavaScript files from external resources, contact the website owner and ask them to minify such files.
If your JavaScript files aren't minified, but your pages load fast, you can simply ignore this issue.

Issue description

Some of your web pages use more than 30 JavaScript files. Each time a visitor navigates to your web page, the browser loads JavaScript files first. The browser sends a separate request to the web server for each file used by your web page, and the more requests are sent, the longer it will take for your web pages to load. In turn, the page loading speed impacts the user experience, bounce rate, and, as a result, your SERP rankings.

How to fix

Ensure that you're only using JavaScript files necessary for the correct operation of your web pages.
If this is the case, it is recommended to combine them.

Issue description

HTTP response compression is not configured on your website. Compressing CSS files significantly reduces their size as well as the overall size of your web page, improving the page load time as a result.
Uncompressed CSS files make your web page load slower, which has a negative impact on the user experience and search engine rankings.

How to fix

Configure server-side CSS compression.
If you use uncompressed CSS files from an external resource, make sure that they do not slow down your page load time. Otherwise, contact the owner of the resource where the CSS files are stored with a request to configure compression.

Issue description

Minification is the process of removing unnecessary lines, white space and comments from the source code.
Minifying CSS files makes their size smaller, and as a result, decreases the page load time, providing a better user experience and improving your search engine rankings.

How to fix

Minify your CSS files.
If you use CSS files from external resources, contact the website owner and ask them to minify such files. If your CSS files aren't minified, but your pages load fast, you can simply ignore this issue.

ISSUES	PAGES	NEW	FIXED
Some of your web pages use more than 50 CSS files. Each time a visitor navigates to your web page, the browser loads CSS files first. The browser sends a separate request to the web server for each file used by your web page, and the more requests are sent, the longer it will take for your web pages to load. In turn, the page loading speed impacts the user experience, bounce rate, and, as a result, your SERP rankings.

Make sure that you're only using CSS files that are necessary for the correct operation of your web pages.
If this is the case, it is recommended to combine them.

Description

Internal links help search engine crawlers discover new web pages and ensure link equity distribution across the website. External links help support ideas and facts expressed in content with data from external sources. Both are indispensable components for a good user experience. However, they can ruin it if they don't work properly. This section checks whether the links on your website work correctly. It also suggests improvements if it discovers any issues.

Issue description

Some internal links on your website point to pages whose URL has changed. Redirects allow both visitors and search engines to access the relevant page, but we still recommend you replace such links. In some cases, such links may cause the page to work incorrectly (for example, if the site was moved to HTTPS and internal links still use the HTTP protocol). Redirects also result in the loss of a small fraction of the link juice.

How to fix

Replace all internal links indicated in the report with up-to-date page URL addresses.

Nofollow internal links	2	0	0
https://ucu.ac.ug/privacy-policy/https://ucu.ac.ug/ucu-invites-bids-for-works-services-and-supplies-2026-2028/

Issue description

Some internal links on your website use the rel="nofollow" attribute.
Since search engines do not follow such links, tagging them with this attribute may lead to you having issues indexing your website's pages.
In addition, since nofollow links do not transfer any link juice, it is lost and isn't distributed among other pages that you linked out to from the given page.

How to fix

Do not use the rel="nofollow" attribute for your website's internal linking.
To prevent search engine robots from following your site's internal links, use the Disallow rule in the robots.txt file.

Issue description

Some internal links on your website have an empty or naked anchor (i.e., anchor that uses a raw URL), or the anchor text only contains symbols. When clicking on links without anchors, it may be difficult for both website visitors and search engines to understand what to expect to see on the page that you link out to.

How to fix

Review the links indicated in the report and, if necessary, add anchor texts or descriptive in-copy text around the link. Aim to use concise phrasing in anchor texts.

Issue description

Some external links on your website use the rel="nofollow" attribute.
Search engines do not follow links tagged with the rel="nofollow" attribute, and such links do not transfer link juice to linked out pages.

How to fix

Make sure that all external links tagged with the rel="nofollow" attribute really need to be tagged with this attribute. Google recommends using the rel="sponsored" attribute for sponsored links, and the rel="ugc" attribute for user-generated content in links (for example, comments). The rel="nofollow" attribute makes it clear to search engines that you do not want to link your site to the website you are linking out to.

Issue description

Some external links on your website have an empty or naked anchor (i.e., anchor that uses a raw URL), or the anchor text only contains symbols. When clicking on links without anchors, it may be difficult for both website visitors and search engines to understand what to expect to see on the page that you link out to.

How to fix

Review the links indicated in the report and, if necessary, add anchor texts or descriptive in-copy text around the link. Aim to use concise phrasing in anchor texts.

Issue description

Some pages of your website do not have the X Card tag. Without this tag, the page title, description, image, and so on won't be pulled up and displayed in your X posts along with the link. Instead, X will pull data from relevant Open Graph tags, if there are any.

How to fix

Use the X Card tag if you want the links to your pages that you share in your X feed to look attractive. Please note that URLs inside X cards must be absolute and utilize the http:// or https:// protocols.
